

LINDA INGRAHAM

Blurring the boundaries of photography, Linda Ingraham's powerful images are visual metaphors, touching on themes of spirituality, loss, desire and hope.

Her emotionally evocative artwork has been exhibited in galleries and museums across the United States and abroad, including shows in Brussels, Tokyo and Beijing and is included in the collections of three American Museums, the Art in Embassies, as well as numerous public and private collections. Recently she had a twenty-five-year retrospective at the Chandler Center for the Arts in Arizona and has just returned from China where she went on a U.S. State Department Cultural Grant.

Her work is represented by several galleries nationally and internationally.
